DIVERSITY

India is one of the most beautiful ancient countries in the world. It is known as the 'Home of Ayurveda', 'The Land of Yoga' and more recently 'The Land of Information & Technology'. India is located in Southern Asia. The name

India is derived from Indus, which originates from the old Persian word Hindu. The latter term stems from the Sanskrit word Sindhu, which was the historical name for the Indus River.

With over 1.3 billion people, India is the most populous democracy in the world.

It is a Federal Constitutional Republic governed under a Parliamentary System consisting of 29 states and 7 union territories. According to the census, the total number of dialects spoken in India is 1,652 of which 22 are recognized as official languages. India is a land of incredible diversity – from ancient traditions and artistic heritage to magnificent landscapes and culinary creations.

They say that when you travel 200 miles in India, you can experience differences in language, food and even weather.
